I know I should take this as a warning and walk away, but for some reason, it's only enticing me more. ----- When I moved to Austin, Texas, the last thing I expected to find was someone like Nash Barrett. He isn't like any man I've ever met. He's confident, sexy and not afraid to be himself. Trying to fight my attraction to him is becoming harder by the day. But I'm living a lie. I'm not the nice girl from a middle-class family in Utah like Nash thinks. I'm the heiress to a billion-dollar fortune, and that's not what he's looking for. If the truth comes out, I'll lose the only man I've ever fallen in love with . . . and I'm not sure I'm willing to give him up. Praise for

In Making Transit Fun!, Nordahl shows that with the help of architects, urban designers, graphic artists, industrial engineers, marketing experts--and even fashion designers--we can lure people out of their automobiles and toward healthier, more sustainable methods of transportation. This accessible E-ssential focuses on the possibilities for making public transit, cycling, and walking more appealing to the motorist. In each section, Nordahl demonstrates how the transit stigma can be overcome with innovative design. From the aesthetics of buses to segregated bike lanes and pedestrian-priority streets, Nordahl showcases examples from around the world that excite the heart and bring an easy smile.
